never have been happy in that life. You'll realize it one day too. I'm sure Aunt Jinnie's looking after you, but I can't help worrying – you know what your old mother's like. The world is a very dangerous place for young girls, especially ones with stars in their eyes. Stars are nice to look at, but sometimes they can blind you to what's right in front of your nose.

Emma and Molly miss you awfully. Emma's getting so pretty now, and little Molly is bright as a button, just like you were at her age. They need their big sister to look out for them.

Dear, dear Jessie, please come back. I'm frightened for you. I can't help feeling something terrible is going to happen. I cry for you, every night.

Your loving mother,

Ela está bem longe de casa.
